The Dance at the Beaverdam School.

Last Friday evening the Beaverdam School was the scene of a delightful masquerade dance.

When a soldier's hat was passed, previous to the serving of lunch, Circus heroes, Spanish dancers, Red Cross nurses, gypsies, nurse-maids, The Queen of Hearts, cow-girls and all the officers of the Hobo Brotherhood responded. Buster Brown and Mary Jane, and even little Snookums had brought their pennies for the soldiers.

During the evening an enjoyable programme was rendered, and an auction sale of miscellaneous objects, not the least of which was a marvellous mysterious cake, took place. Though many of the contributions came from suspicious looking characters no questions were asked.

At the end of the evening Mr. Havens, the Sampsonston representative of the Patriotic Fund announced, that he would be able to turn over to the Fund the sum of $53.70.

That Mr. Nyer excelled himself as a floor manager was made evident by the fact that not once did a hobo become entangled in the train of the lady of the 19th century, or tread upon the gown of many others.

Mr. Havens and the boys of the Beaver Dam, whose work made the evening so great a success are to be complimented.

HUGE COLONIZATION SCHEME

Plan to Bring Eight Million Additional Acres in the West Under Cultivation

To bring under cultivation millions of acres of land, non-productive, is the aim of a colonization scheme, launched by the Dominion government. It is generally conceded that the demand for Canada for grain is increasing owing to the fact that production in France, Austria and Russia, resulting from war, is much less than expected to materially increase, thereby making farming much more profitable. It is pointed out by the Dominion board of trade that if all the heads of families who are trained farmers, were given 160 acres each, 8,000,000 additional acres of land would be brought under cultivation.

An exact copy of the memorandum prepared by the Regina board of trade dealing with the matter, follows: At the present time the Dominion of Canada has a surplus of trained and capable laborers, who before coming to Canada were engaged in farming occupations have been thrown out of employment by the shutting down of public works, railways, construction, city building and other work. These people are splendidly adapted for the hard work of the new country and the development of a new country and the hardships of the pioneer.

There are many millions of acres of fertile land in Canada, particularly in the west, uncultivated; these lands are owned by individual speculators, large land companies, by the Dominion government, and a large percentage is subject to carrying charges of taxed land. It is estimated that non-revenue producing in its present condition. The statistics of the agriculture department of the west provinces show the land to be exceedingly productive of all cereals, excellent quality of wheat, permanent and increasing market exists in the other countries.

The present European war will likely create an artificial scarcity of the staple articles of food, such as wheat, to come, and in all probability, the prices of cereals and meat products will be considerably increased. Under conditions become normal again. It seems the duty of Canadians in every way of life to do all that is possible in any land should see to it that it is brought under cultivation as possible. Our Dominion government, in proportion of this land rapidly under settlement to establish community settlements throughout the Dominion by means of an organization into which the management of the land shall be given. This organization shall be organized, that each family receive an allotment of 160 acres and sixty acres of land; that they shall settle in small villages and that they shall be located in such a way that while living closely together they will still be near their farms. This will mean organization on the part of the group for the purpose of both buying and selling, one or more of the group to be selected by them for the purpose of doing such business and receiving such instructions from the Dominion group to carry on the operations with the greatest efficiency and economy. In the estimation of the executive, the land will have to be bought on long terms of payment, carrying a moderate rate of interest, and the amortization plan so that it will be able to work itself out of the mortgage to mortgage the land at a high rate of interest.

This plan will not only be of great benefit to the country but it will work out to the advantage of the land owner who will be able to assign out his duty to the empire in almost as great a measure as though he were taken to the front. It will be a big duty to humanity, because it is almost certain that during the next few years there will be a great demand produced in the world to produce food for the population.

The credit of the whole group shall be back of every individual contract as, in our estimation, this is the only way in which the necessary amount of funds can be made available for the purpose. Experience of Europe has shown that groups such as these can be given a reasonable amount of credit suitable to their needs with absolute safety. When the land in the hands of the committee is sold, a bond will be given to the owner for the value of the land as agreed upon between the trustees and the owner in the terms of the mortgage. This title is made clear. In the estimation of this executive, the Dominion government has a permanent market value and would be looked upon with the same favor as any other form of security of a municipality or province, at least during normal conditions.

It may be necessary to face the strenuous and uncertain conditions that prevail now that there might have to be some underwriting of the government to give them immediate value, until investors are able to find value as they are recognized in Europe.

It is absolutely necessary that before permanent settlement is undertaken that some amount of credit should be extended to the groups to enable them to procure at least at the lowest possible price, the necessary equipment to carry on their operations. Credit should be available for this purpose if not by any other. Our very existence depends on the security of the community depends upon how completely we can bring the uncultivated lands of the country under cultivation.

This executive has made an estimate of what will be required for this purpose, and it believes that the Dominion government with many people on the subject, that the community of the Dominion has families, starting under such auspices have a good chance to carry out their obligations and will become permanent and happy settlers. The credit could be financed by an arrangement between the Dominion government and the banks. There surely can be no better security than the credit created by capable men who are occupying, under favorable conditions, the fertile soil of this country.

It is estimated that those who have given study to the matter of settlement in Canada at the present time for settlement. One hundred and sixty acres of land to each of these would mean that there would be 8,000,000 acres of land immediately occupied and brought very quickly under cultivation.

This executive has made an estimate of the large number of settlers who have had experience, given the attached that as the approximate needs of the families one hundred and sixty acres of land, to provide the necessary equipment and means for the first eighteen months, which time they would be self-supporting.

A great many of the farm implements and facilities would be used by the group in common, one of the advantages of this system is that it would not be necessary for each individual to have a large amount of public works, railways, construction, city building and other work. These people are splendidly adapted for the hard work of the new country and the development of a new country and the hardships of the pioneer. The Thin Khard Line

"Good-bye, you fellows!"

Thirty gunners of a British field battery had just been killed and wounded. Thirty others had been ordered to take their places, knowing as they did that they would be killed. This was their last greeting to their comrades in the reserve line.

THE WORLD'S WHEAT SUPPLIES

The Canadian Producer's Opportunity in a Situation of Universal Shortage

Public officials have been exhorting the Canadian farmer to sow more wheat this year, as a counter-measure to the shortage of wheat in the world. The Canadian farmer is in a position to supply the world's need for wheat, and he is in a position to supply the world's need for wheat, and he is in a position to supply the world's need for wheat.

Europe leads the continents in wheat production, and normally raises as much as North America, her nearest competitor. She grew over one-half of the record-breaking world's wheat crop of 1913, doubling the combined contribution of Canada, Russia and Mexico.

Europe probably carried over into 1914 a fair surplus from her harvest of 1913. But what of the wheat crop of 1914? Russia's wheat crop is expected to be a record, but it is expected to be a record, but it is expected to be a record, but it is expected to be a record.

The bumper crop of the United States will hardly offset the shortage of Russian wheat. The bumper crop of the United States will hardly offset the shortage of Russian wheat.
